HIS FALL KILLED HIM.

Benjamia Ladd Was Precipitated a Distance of Thirty Feet.

Benjamin Ladd, a colored employee of the Richmond Chemical-Works, while at work on one of the outbuildings at the works Monday, fell to the ground, a distance of 30 feet, and, striking on his distance of 20 feet, and, strains of the head, received injuries from which he died that night.

The accident occurred just about the noon hour. Ladd, with several other laborers, was assisting the carpenters and pipe-setters in the work of connections all the of lead-pipe with one of the and pipe-setters in the work of connecting a line of lead-pipe with one of the new buildings recently erected by the company Losing his balance he fell, head-foremost, to the ground. The unfortunate man was taken to the home of his mother, Lizzle Gordon, at the extreme end of Graham street, Fulton. Dr. Connecte the regular physician of the Crossbaw, the regular physician of the chemical-works, attended the sufferer, but he died about 9 o'clock, and it is thought that death resulted from a fracture of the chemical sufferer. ture of the skull.

Ladd's fellow-laborers say that no one is to blame for the accident; that it was one of those unfortunate things that happen to the most careful workers.

George Washington Sustained.

Justice John was still indisposed yester-day morning, and in his stead 'Squire Graves again suspended the balance twixt finger and thumb. The sinners in Rich-mond showed George Washington marked respect on Monday, and few of them got into trouble, except in some instances where some irreverent fellow, without a touch of patriotism, said the story that the "Father of his Country" never told a the "Father of his Country" never told a lie was all a myth, and originated with the newspapers, and received a beating not exactly because he wasn't right, but because he was so injudicious as to say so. Frank Haas was charged with being a suspicious character, and the case was continued until the 27th. Haas is suspected of the quaint little game known as "illm-flam," but the 'Squire thought it best to let time as well as the detectives do a little more work yet in the case. In the case of Robert Vine charged with breaking into Sutherland's livery stable and stealing a carriage-robe. valued at $20, the accused was dismissed The clouds gathered very dark and omi-nous about the gourd of this particular Vine, but they didn't burst, and presently

Miss Adele Aus Der Ohe to Play. The feature of the next Metropolitan concert, which is to be given at the Academy of Music, will be the playing of Miss Adele Aus der Ohe, an artist of astronishing technical powers, who was the pupil of Liszt, and is one of the most popular lady planists of to-day.

Aus der Ohe's playing. It is simply great playing—great in technique, in force of temperament, in charm. It is the fine, natural expression of a fine and commanding personality.

Miss Aus der Ohe will be supported by Signora Montefiore, a great dramatic so-prano, and Signor Francesco Gravini, a famous Italian tenor.

This concert of the Metropolitan series will be under the direct management of Messrs. Walter D. Moses & Co., of this city, who have offered a large guarantee in order to secure the services of artists of so great note. The advance sale up to the present time has been very encourag-ing, and it seems as if the venture would as great a financial success as it will be successful from an artistic standpoint.

Two Boards to Meet Here. The State Board of Public Instruction

ill meet in May next, to make appointments of superintendents of public schools for the different cities and coun-ties in the State, whose terms of office expire in July. The board is composed of the Governor, Superintendent of Pub-ile Instruction, and Attorney-General, and these officials are already being over-run by persons who are willing to serve he State for the next term. Governor O'Ferrall has given the State Board of Pharmacy permission to use the hall of the House of Delegates on March 16th and 17th, when another ex-amination of candidates for registered pharmacists and assistants will take place. Colonel John Bell Bigger has extended a similar courtesy to the board as to the use of his office during those days for the meetings of that body.

Miss Margaret Caldwell Weds. Miss Margaret Anna Caldwell was mar-ried to Mr. John Smithson, of Knoxville, yesterday morning, at the home of her parents, No. 722 west Broad street.

The ceremony took place at 11:30 o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Dr. Fair. The bride and groom left directly afterwards, taking the 12 o'clock train for Knoxville, where they will in future

Twins in Size, Shape, and Activity. This is what those important little organs, the kidneys, are when healthy. In disorder they may differ in all three particulars. Disease usually destroys them successively, not simultaneously, and one may be active while the other is semi-paralyzed. Give to both a healthful impulse, without exciting them, with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which forestalls such dreadful maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes. Use the Bitters, also, for malarial, billous, rheumatic, nervous, bowel, and kidney trouble.

Many Delightful Features in Connection with the Hospital Bazaar. The bazaar of the Associated Hospitals, despite the untoward circumstances with which it has been surrounded, continues to attract large crowds to the Armory, and to thrive in a corresponding degree. Adverse climatic conditions, great and numerous counter-attractions, have all gone for naught when weighed in the gone for naught when weighed in the balance against the charm, the brilliance, and the interesting features of the great bazaar, to say nothing of the admirable purpose which underlies it all. Yesterday afternoon a bevy of children from the Retreat for the Sick took in the delights of the bazaar. It seemed to bring a ray of sunshine into their young lives, which have been too garly touched by suffering, and their faces were liluminated with the happiness of their experience.

At night the attraction was an exhihition drill by the female squad attached to Company B. Captain Cunningham put them through the manual of arms, and the smartness and exactitude with which they responded to the words of command were the admiration of all.

WILL LAST TILL SATURDAY. It has definitely been decided to let the bazaar run its course until next Saturday. So liberal have been the do-nations that the stocks at the several booths are still very large. Some admirable bargains are to be had, and the auction of goods commenced proved to a very interesting, as well as profitable, feature.

The gallery, which has been converted into a dancing-room, is liberally patronized, and the music of the Blues' Band comes in for a large share of praise. The voting and raffling objects at the various stalls are very liberally patronized, and into many of them has entered a spirit of rivalry, which redounds greatly to the profit of the bazaar. There will be no special features to-night, owing to the fact that the arrangement for the lease of Sanger Hail has expired, but there will be an impromptu entertainment, of which all will get the benefit without extra charge, and there is so much 'round the bazaar to interest and amuse that an hour or so spent within amuse that an hour or so spent within the precincts of the Armory drill-hall cannot fall to be enjoyed.
